

DULCORATION

Meaning: DULCORATION: The process of making something sweeter or more palatable, often by adding sugar or other sweeteners.

1. The dulcoration of the dessert added a delightful sweetness that everyone enjoyed.
2. After the dulcoration of the bitter medicine, the children were more willing to take their doses.
3. In cooking, dulcoration can transform a dish, making it more appealing to the palate.
4. The chef's skillful dulcoration of the dish made it not only tasty but visually stunning.
5. She had a talent for dulcoration, often sweetening her speeches with charming anecdotes.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/dulcoration>