

DUPLICATE

Meaning: Duplicate (verb): to make an exact copy of something.

1. It's important to duplicate your research findings to ensure accuracy.
2. The artist decided to create a duplicate of her most famous painting for the exhibition.
3. Please make a duplicate copy of this document for our records.
4. In the digital age, it's easy to accidentally duplicate files on your computer.
5. The technician had to duplicate the settings to restore the system to its previous state.
6. Please make sure to duplicate the document before submitting it.
7. The team discovered a duplicate of the original file during their audit.
8. To avoid confusion, please label each duplicate clearly.
9. She received a duplicate of the award after it was lost in the mail.
10. The software is designed to automatically detect and remove duplicate entries.
11. The office manager asked everyone to make a duplicate of their identification cards for security purposes.
12. After realizing he had sent a duplicate email, he quickly followed up with an apology to the recipients.
13. The artist created a duplicate of her original painting to sell at the gallery opening.
14. To avoid confusion, please label all duplicate files with the date and version number.
15. The software allows users to easily duplicate their projects with just one click.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/duplicate>