

ECHOLESS

Meaning: ECHOLESS: adjective describing a space that produces no echoes, resulting in complete silence.

1. The vast expanse of the echo-less canyon left the explorers in awe of its silence.
2. In an echo-less room, even the softest whispers seemed to vanish without a trace.
3. She felt an echo-less void after her friend moved away, a silence that resonated deeply within her.
4. The poet described the echo-less night as a canvas for his thoughts, free from distractions.
5. As he stood at the edge of the cliff, the echo-less landscape below felt both haunting and serene.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/echoless>