

ECTROPION

Meaning: Ectropion is a medical condition characterized by the outward turning of the eyelid, resulting in exposure of the inner eyelid and potential irritation.

1. Ectropion is a condition where the eyelid turns outward, leading to exposure of the inner eyelid.
2. Patients with ectropion often experience irritation and excessive tearing due to the misalignment of the eyelid.
3. Surgical treatment for ectropion can help restore the proper position of the eyelid and improve comfort.
4. In older adults, ectropion can occur as a result of aging skin and weakened connective tissues.
5. It is important to consult an ophthalmologist if you suspect you have ectropion, as it may lead to further complications if left untreated.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/ectropion>