

EDULCORATIVE

Meaning: EDULCORATIVE (adjective): having a sweetening or soothing effect, especially in language or tone, that mitigates harshness or severity.

1. The edulcorative nature of her words softened the harsh criticism she had intended to deliver.
2. In a conversation filled with tension, his edulcorative comments helped to ease the atmosphere.
3. The teacher's edulcorative approach made even the most complex subjects seem inviting to her students.
4. The novel's edulcorative prose allowed readers to see the beauty in life's struggles.
5. Her edulcorative laughter could lighten even the gloomiest of rooms.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/edulcorative>