EGGHOT

Meaning: Egghot: A dish typically consisting of eggs cooked in a flavorful manner, often served as a breakfast or brunch item.

1. The chef decided to prepare an egghot for the brunch menu, showcasing his culinary skills.
2. As the sun rose, I savored a delicious egghot while enjoying the peaceful morning.
3. After a long day, nothing felt better than curling up with a warm egghot and a good book.
4. At the breakfast meeting, the egghot was a surprising hit among the attendees.
5. She always added a touch of spice to her egghot, making it a unique dish in her repertoire.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/egghot