

ELECTROTYPING

Meaning: Electrotyping is a printing process that involves creating a metal plate from a mold of an original design for the purpose of mass reproduction.

1. Electrotyping is a process that allows for the mass reproduction of intricate designs.
2. The museum showcased a collection of electrotyping prints from the 19th century.
3. Due to its efficiency, electrotyping became a popular method in the printing industry.
4. Artists often relied on electrotyping to create detailed engravings without losing quality.
5. Advancements in technology have made modern electrotyping faster and more precise than ever.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/electrotyping>