

ENDOGENETIC

Meaning: Endogenetic refers to processes or factors that originate from within a system, particularly in relation to geological formations or biological development.

1. Endogenetic processes play a crucial role in shaping the geological features of our planet.
2. The scientists focused on the endogenetic factors that influenced the development of the species over millennia.
3. In his research, he emphasized the importance of endogenetic mechanisms in evolutionary biology.
4. Endogenetic growth patterns can often be observed in the way that certain plants adapt to their environment.
5. The concept of endogenetic change is essential for understanding the dynamics of complex systems.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/endogenetic>