

ENFEVER

Meaning: To enfever means to excite or intensify emotions, particularly enthusiasm or anticipation.

1. The news of her promotion seemed to enfever the entire office with excitement.
2. As the concert date approached, the fans began to enfever in anticipation of the event.
3. His passionate speech enfevered the crowd, igniting a fervor for change.
4. The stunning performance enfevered the audience, leaving them roaring for an encore.
5. A sudden cold front enfevered the usually mild weather, causing everyone to scramble for warmer clothes.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/enfever>