

ENGARRISON

Meaning: To engarrison means to station military troops in a specific location to provide protection and maintain order.

1. The military decided to engarrison the strategic outpost to strengthen defenses against potential threats.
2. After the recent conflict, the government ordered troops to engarrison key cities to maintain order and security.
3. Community leaders voiced concerns about the decision to engarrison the area, fearing it would disrupt daily life.
4. As tensions rose in the region, the general swiftly moved to engarrison additional forces along the border.
5. The historical documents revealed that the castle was once engarrisoned during a time of great unrest.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/engarrison>