

ENSHIELD

Meaning: To enshield means to protect or shelter something from external forces or harsh conditions.

1. The ancient trees enshield the village from the harsh winds of winter.
2. Her thick coat served to enshield her from the biting cold of the storm.
3. They built a high wall to enshield the garden from wandering animals.
4. The new policy aims to enshield students from any form of discrimination.
5. In his speech, he promised to enshield the community from rising crime rates.
6. The new policy aims to enshield the vulnerable population from economic hardships.
7. She wore a thick coat to enshield herself from the biting winter wind.
8. The advanced technology is designed to enshield sensitive data from cyber threats.
9. They sought to enshield their children from the harsh realities of life.
10. Efforts to enshield endangered species have become a global priority.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/enshield>