

ENTOZOLOGIST

Meaning: An entozoologist is a scientist who studies parasitic worms and their interactions with host organisms.

1. An entomologist specializing in parasitic worms, known as an entozoologist, conducted groundbreaking research on the life cycles of these organisms.
2. The entozoologist presented her findings at the international conference, highlighting the impact of parasites on host populations.
3. In his pursuit of a cure for a rare disease, the entozoologist collaborated with geneticists to trace the origins of the infection.
4. Many entozoologists work tirelessly in the field, collecting samples to better understand the ecological roles of parasites.
5. The documentary featured an entozoologist who traveled to remote areas to study the effects of climate change on parasite distribution.

---

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/entozoologist>