

EQUATING

Meaning: Equating refers to the act of considering two or more things as equal or similar in value, significance, or meaning.

1. Equating success with wealth can lead to a narrow view of what it means to be fulfilled.
2. The teacher emphasized the importance of equating effort with achievement in her lessons.
3. Many people mistakenly equate age with wisdom, overlooking the value of diverse experiences.
4. In mathematics, equating variables allows for clearer solutions to complex problems.
5. Equating love with dependency can create unhealthy relationships that are hard to navigate.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/equating>