

ETHNOLOGICALLY

Meaning: Ethnologically refers to the study or consideration of cultural practices and traditions in relation to the characteristics and development of different ethnic groups.

1. The festival was celebrated ethnologically, showcasing the diverse traditions of the indigenous tribes.
2. Her research focused on ethnologically significant practices that shaped the community's identity.
3. The documentary explored the ethnologically rich narratives of various cultures across the globe.
4. Ethnologically, the region reveals a complex tapestry of influences from its historical migrations.
5. The museum's exhibit was organized ethnologically, allowing visitors to appreciate the connections between different cultures.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/ethnologically>