

EXCULPABLE

Meaning: Exculpable refers to being free from blame or guilt, especially after evidence or circumstances justify one's actions.

1. The jury found the defendant exculpable after reviewing the new evidence presented during the trial.
2. Despite the initial accusations, her actions were deemed exculpable in light of the circumstances.
3. The judge ruled that the defendant's mental state made his behavior exculpable under the law.
4. In some cultures, certain traditional practices are considered exculpable, even if they clash with modern ethics.
5. The investigation revealed that the suspect had an alibi, rendering him exculpable for the crime.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/exculpable>