

EXCULPATING

Meaning: Exculpating refers to the act of clearing someone from blame or fault, often by providing evidence or reasons that demonstrate their innocence.

1. The evidence presented during the trial was exculpating, ultimately leading to her acquittal.
2. His alibi was so strong that it served as an exculpating factor in the investigation.
3. The newly discovered documents were exculpating for the defendant, showing he was not at the scene.
4. In the end, the witness's testimony was exculpating, clearing him of all charges.
5. The thorough review of the case revealed exculpating details that had been overlooked initially.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/exculpating>