

EXPECTORATIVE

Meaning: Expectorative: a medication or substance that promotes the expulsion of mucus from the respiratory tract.

1. The doctor prescribed an expectorative to help clear the patient's congested lungs.
2. Her expectorative cough syrup provided much-needed relief during the cold season.
3. Expectorative medications can be effective in treating respiratory infections.
4. He often used expectorative remedies, believing in their ability to promote better breathing.
5. The pharmacist recommended an expectorative to help expel mucus from her chest.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/expectorative>