

EXTROVERSION

Meaning: Extroversion is a personality trait characterized by a preference for social interaction, engagement with the external world, and a tendency to seek stimulation from social situations.

1. Extroversion often leads individuals to thrive in social settings and enjoy meeting new people.
2. In psychology, extroversion is commonly viewed as one end of the personality spectrum, opposite introversion.
3. Her extroversion made her the life of the party, effortlessly engaging everyone around her.
4. Many employers value extroversion in candidates for roles that require teamwork and client interaction.
5. The study found a strong correlation between extroversion and higher levels of reported happiness.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/extroversion>