

FAGEND

Meaning: FAGEND: a state of stagnation or dullness, characterized by a lack of progress or excitement.

1. The team was struggling to find a strategy that would prevent the game from becoming a fagend.
2. After hours of discussion, the meeting devolved into a fagend, leaving everyone frustrated.
3. Her story, while intriguing at first, turned into a fagend that lost the audience's interest.
4. The concert was lively until the last act, which felt like a fagend compared to the vibrant performances before.
5. Despite the initial excitement, the project ultimately became a fagend with little to show for the effort.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/fagend>