

FALLAX

Meaning: Fallax (noun): a false or misleading notion or argument that lacks validity or sound reasoning.

1. The scientist's theory was dismissed as a fallax, lacking solid evidence to support its claims.
2. In the debate, he pointed out the fallax in her argument, highlighting its logical inconsistencies.
3. Many were misled by the fallax presented in the advertisement, believing the product could work miracles.
4. The author's use of fallax in the plot twist left readers questioning their assumptions about the characters.
5. To avoid fallax in his analysis, he meticulously verified each source before drawing conclusions.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/fallax>