

FAULTING

Meaning: Faulting refers to the process of a geological fault forming or the identification of errors or flaws in reasoning or conclusions.

1. The geologist explained the process of faulting and its implications for local seismic activity.
2. After reviewing the evidence, the committee found faulting in the original report's conclusions.
3. Her constant faulting of his decisions made it difficult for him to feel appreciated at work.
4. The faulting in the Earth's crust can lead to significant geological changes over time.
5. He struggled with the faulting of his own judgments as he navigated the complex situation.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/faulting>