

FAWN

Meaning: To fawn means to exhibit affection or seek favor through flattery or submissive behavior, often used in reference to both young deer and overly admiring behavior toward someone in authority.

1. The young deer would often fawn in the meadow, searching for food among the tall grass.
2. During the meeting, she began to fawn over her boss, praising his every decision excessively.
3. As the puppy approached, it seemed to fawn at its owner's feet, eager for attention and affection.
4. The artist's work was met with fawning reviews that highlighted her unique style and vision.
5. In the presence of the celebrity, the crowd began to fawn, hoping for a moment of recognition.
6. The young deer began to fawn over its mother, nudging her for attention.
7. He seemed to fawn over his boss, constantly agreeing with her ideas to gain favor.
8. In the spring, the forest is alive with the sight of fawn running playfully among the trees.
9. She watched as the puppy would fawn at her feet, eager for a gentle touch.
10. Critics accused the film of trying to fawn over its audience with excessive sentimentality.
11. The young deer would often fawn around its mother in the early morning light.
12. At the gala, the politician was surrounded by admirers who would fawn over his every word.
13. She gave a soft fawn to the idea of moving away, hesitant but intrigued by the possibilities.
14. The puppy would fawn at his owner's feet, hoping for a treat or a kind word.
15. In the presence of her idol, she couldn't help but fawn, overwhelmed by excitement.
16. The little girl watched in delight as the fawn cautiously approached the edge of the forest.
17. As the sun set, a fawn emerged from the thicket, its spots glowing in the golden light.
18. He felt the need to fawn over his boss after receiving a promotion at work.
19. In the documentary, the narrator explained how a fawn relies on its mother for protection during its early days.
20. She couldn't help but fawn over the adorable puppies playing in the park.
21. The young deer began to fawn over its mother, nuzzling her gently for comfort.

22. In an attempt to win the manager's favor, he decided to fawn over her ideas during the meeting.
23. The puppy would fawn at the feet of anyone who walked through the door, eager for attention.
24. Even though she was nervous, she couldn't help but fawn over the famous actor at the premiere.
25. As the sun set, a fawn cautiously stepped out from the woods, exploring its new surroundings.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/fawn>