

FEATHER-HEADED

Meaning: Feather-headed: characterized by a lack of seriousness or depth; frivolous or scatterbrained.

1. Her feather-headed attitude often led her to overlook important details in her work.
2. Despite his feather-headed nature, he managed to charm everyone in the room with his lighthearted jokes.
3. The feather-headed decisions of the committee were met with criticism from more pragmatic members.
4. She was often described as feather-headed, drifting from one idea to another without any real focus.
5. His feather-headed approach to life made him a beloved figure among his friends, who appreciated his carefree spirit.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/feather-headed>