

FIBRIFORM

Meaning: FIBRIFORM: resembling or having the form of fibers, often relating to the structural characteristics that contribute to mechanical strength and durability.

1. The fibriform structure of the tissue was crucial for its ability to withstand mechanical stress.
2. Researchers discovered that the fibriform nature of the fibers enhanced the material's durability.
3. During the examination, the scientist noted the fibriform arrangement of the collagen in the sample.
4. The fibriform appearance of the organism's body provided insight into its evolutionary adaptations.
5. In her artwork, she cleverly mimicked a fibriform pattern to evoke a sense of movement and flow.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/fibriform>