

FILE

Meaning: FILE (noun): A collection of documents or papers organized together for reference or storage.

1. Please remember to file your documents in the appropriate cabinet after use.
2. The lawyer presented a compelling case, supported by a thick file of evidence.
3. I need to file my taxes before the deadline to avoid any penalties.
4. She decided to file a complaint against the company for their poor service.
5. After hours of searching, he finally found the file containing the crucial information.
6. Please make sure to file your documents in the correct cabinet for easy access later.
7. The lawyer presented a crucial file containing evidence for the case.
8. She decided to file a complaint about the poor service she received at the restaurant.
9. The digital file was too large to send via email, so I had to compress it first.
10. Please make sure to file your documents in the appropriate folders to keep everything organized.
11. The lawyer presented a compelling case based on the evidence found in the file.
12. After hours of searching, she finally located the missing file on her computer.
13. The digital file was too large to send via email, so I used a file-sharing service instead.
14. The lawyer carefully reviewed the case file before making her argument in court.
15. He decided to file a complaint with the customer service department about his recent experience.
16. After hours of organizing, she finally managed to file all the documents in alphabetical order.
17. The computer crashed, and he feared he might have lost the important file he was working on.
18. In the digital age, many people prefer to store their files in the cloud rather than on physical drives.
19. She decided to file the important documents in a secure location.
20. The lawyer asked me to file the paperwork by the end of the week.

21. He found it difficult to file the reports in an organized manner.
22. After the meeting, I need to file all the notes and presentations for future reference.
23. They used a computer program to file the images in a more efficient way.
24. She decided to file her taxes early this year to avoid any last-minute stress.
25. The librarian instructed us to file the books back on the shelves according to their categories.
26. After hours of research, he finally managed to file his findings in a comprehensive report.
27. You need to file a complaint with customer service if you're not satisfied with the product.
28. The attorney advised her to file for divorce after years of enduring an unhappy marriage.

*Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com
<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/file>*