

FLOSH

Meaning: Flosch (verb): to splash or spread liquid or color in a vigorous, chaotic manner.

1. The artist decided to flosch paint across the canvas, creating a vibrant explosion of color.
2. In the chaos of the storm, the waves began to flosch violently against the shore.
3. With a quick flick of his wrist, he managed to flosch the paper into the recycling bin from across the room.
4. As they danced, their movements seemed to flosch together in a harmonious rhythm.
5. The children laughed as they tried to flosch their way through the puddles after the rain.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/flosch>