

FLUOHYDRIC

Meaning: Fluohydric refers to a chemical compound or acid containing fluoride and hydrogen, particularly known for its corrosive properties, such as etching glass.

1. Fluohydric acid is known for its ability to etch glass surfaces.
2. In laboratories, safety protocols are crucial when handling fluohydric substances.
3. The chemical properties of fluohydric compounds make them valuable in various industrial applications.
4. Researchers are studying fluohydric reactions to develop more efficient cleaning agents.
5. Proper storage of fluohydric solutions is essential to prevent hazardous leaks.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/fluohydric>