

FLUXATION

Meaning: Fluxation refers to a continuous change or fluctuation, particularly in measurements or conditions, indicating instability or variability.

1. The scientist observed a notable fluxation in the temperature readings during the experiment.
2. In financial markets, fluxation often indicates instability and uncertainty among investors.
3. The artist's style evolved through a constant fluxation of ideas and techniques over the years.
4. During the meeting, the team discussed the fluxation in project timelines due to unforeseen circumstances.
5. Her emotions were in fluxation, shifting rapidly from joy to sadness as the news unfolded.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/fluxation>