

FLYBLOW

Meaning: Flyblow refers to a mass of maggots or larvae, especially of blowflies, found on decaying organic matter, indicating decomposition.

1. The flyblow on the carcass indicated that it had been dead for some time.
2. She recoiled in disgust at the sight of the flyblow covering the spoiled meat.
3. The farmer knew that the flyblow could attract other pests to his barn.
4. During the summer, flyblow becomes a common problem in warm, humid areas.
5. After the inspection, the expert assessed that the flyblow could compromise the health of nearby livestock.
6. The carcass was covered in flyblow, indicating it had been dead for several days.
7. After the picnic, we noticed some flyblow on the leftover food, prompting us to throw it away.
8. The farmer was worried about the flyblow infesting his livestock during the hot summer months.
9. She carefully examined the fruit for signs of flyblow before deciding to eat it.
10. In the old barn, the flyblow was a clear sign that the animals had not been cared for properly.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/flyblow>