

FOLIATION

Meaning: Foliation refers to the arrangement or layering of leaves or sheets, particularly in the context of botanical growth or the physical structure of documents.

1. The foliation of the ancient manuscript revealed layers of history that had been carefully preserved.
2. In botany, the foliation of plants during spring is a sign of healthy growth and vitality.
3. The artist's use of foliation in her sculptural work added depth and texture to the overall composition.
4. During the geological survey, the scientists studied the foliation of the rocks to understand the area's tectonic history.
5. Foliation can significantly impact the structural properties of materials, especially in architecture and design.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/foliation>