

FOOTHOT

Meaning: Foothot: a small ledge or projection on a slope or surface that provides a stable point for placing the foot to aid in climbing or traversing.

1. The hiker carefully placed his foot on the foothot to gain better traction on the steep slope.
2. During the winter, the foothot became icy, making the climb more challenging for the mountaineers.
3. She noticed that the foothot was worn down, indicating that many had passed through before her.
4. The guide pointed out the foothot as a crucial landmark for navigating the rugged terrain.
5. As they ascended, they used the foothot to steady themselves against the strong winds.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/foothot>