

FORCIBLENESS

Meaning: Forcibleness refers to the quality or state of being forceful or persuasive, particularly in argumentation or implementation.

1. The forcibleness of his argument left little room for debate.
2. She questioned the forcibleness of the new policy's implementation and its potential impact.
3. In the courtroom, the attorney's forcibleness captivated the jury's attention.
4. The forcibleness with which she expressed her views made a lasting impression on the audience.
5. They underestimated the forcibleness of the movement, which quickly gained momentum.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/forcibleness>