

FORCIPATION

Meaning: Forcipation is the act of grasping or seizing an object using a tool or instrument.

1. Forcipation is often used to describe the act of grasping or seizing something with a tool or instrument.
2. The forcipation of the object required careful attention to avoid damage during the process.
3. In entomology, forcipation can refer to the way certain species capture their prey with specialized appendages.
4. The artist's technique involved a form of forcipation that allowed her to manipulate the materials with precision.
5. During the surgical procedure, the forcipation of delicate tissues was crucial for a successful outcome.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/forcipation>