

FOSSILIZE

Meaning: To fossilize means to preserve the remains of an organism in a hardened form, typically within rock, over geological time.

1. The remains of the ancient tree were discovered perfectly fossilized in the rock.
2. Scientists are studying how certain conditions can lead to the fossilization of bones.
3. Over millions of years, the soft tissues of the dinosaur gradually fossilized into stone.
4. The process of fossilizing organic material can take thousands of years to complete.
5. Paleontologists often find it challenging to identify the specific conditions that allow for effective fossilization.
6. Scientists have discovered a way to fossilize organic matter in under a year.
7. The ancient tree was perfectly preserved, allowing researchers to study how it fossilized.
8. Sometimes, even animal footprints can fossilize, revealing insights into prehistoric life.
9. The process to fossilize remains can take thousands of years, depending on environmental conditions.
10. Certain minerals can help to fossilize bones, turning them into stone-like structures over time.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/fossilize>