FULCRUM

Meaning: Fulcrum: a point of support or leverage on which a lever pivots, or a central or essential element around which something is organized or focused.

1. The lever balanced perfectly on its fulcrum, allowing her to lift the heavy object with ease.
2. In their debate, he served as the fulcrum around which the discussion revolved.
3. The design of the bridge relied on a central fulcrum to withstand the force of the wind.
4. In the classroom, the teacher acted as a fulcrum for the students' creativity and ideas.
5. They found a fulcrum in their partnership, enabling them to achieve much more together than alone.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/fulcrum