

GALVANIZATION

Meaning: Galvanization refers to the process of stimulating or energizing a group or material, particularly in the context of inspiring community spirit or applying a protective zinc coating to metal to prevent rust and corrosion.

1. Galvanization of the community's spirit was evident during the annual festival.
2. The galvanization of metal is a process that helps prevent rust and corrosion.
3. Her speech served as a galvanization of the team's motivation to succeed in the competition.
4. Increased funding led to the galvanization of research and development in renewable energy.
5. The artist's work acted as a galvanization for social change, inspiring many to take action.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/galvanization>