

GIDDY-HEADED

Meaning: GIDDY-HEADED: feeling excessively joyful or excited to the point of being disoriented or unable to concentrate.

1. After winning the lottery, she felt completely giddy-headed and unable to focus on anything else.
2. The giddy-headed excitement of the carnival left the children laughing and spinning in delight.
3. He was so giddy-headed from the unexpected compliment that he stumbled over his words.
4. As the wedding approached, she became giddy-headed with joy and anticipation for the big day.
5. In the midst of the celebration, their giddy-headed antics drew smiles from everyone around them.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/giddy-headed>