

GLANDIFEROUS

Meaning: Glandiferous refers to having or producing glands that secrete substances, particularly in the context of plants that produce essential oils.

1. The term 'glandiferous' is often used in botanical studies to describe plants that produce and secrete essential oils.
2. Researchers found that the glandiferous structures in the leaves of the plant play a crucial role in attracting pollinators.
3. In certain species, glandiferous cells are responsible for the production of resins that protect them from herbivores.
4. The presence of glandiferous tissues can significantly affect the medicinal properties of various herbs.
5. Understanding the function of glandiferous glands in animals can provide insights into their evolutionary adaptations.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/glandiferous>