

GLOMERATION

Meaning: Glomeration refers to the act or process of gathering together or clustering of diverse elements, such as cultures or populations, into a cohesive whole.

1. The glomeration of various cultures in the city creates a vibrant atmosphere.
2. After years of glomeration, the once small town has transformed into a bustling metropolis.
3. The scientist studied the glomeration of cells under the microscope to understand their behavior.
4. In the artwork, the glomeration of colors and shapes drew the viewer's attention.
5. The festival celebrated the glomeration of local traditions and modern influences.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/glomeration>