

GLUMP

Meaning: GLUMP (verb): to display a sullen or gloomy demeanor, often characterized by a lack of enthusiasm or cheerfulness.

1. He sat in the corner, glumping over his lost opportunity.
2. After the disappointing game, the team members walked off the field with glumps on their faces.
3. She couldn't help but glump at the thought of saying goodbye to her childhood home.
4. The children glumped as they watched their favorite ice cream truck drive away.
5. Feeling glumped by the gloomy weather, he decided to stay indoors and read.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/glump>