

GO-BETWEEN

Meaning: A go-between is a person who acts as an intermediary or mediator, facilitating communication or negotiation between two parties.

1. The diplomat served as a go-between, facilitating negotiations between the two countries.
2. In their dispute, she acted as a go-between, helping to communicate their needs effectively.
3. Finding a reliable go-between can often streamline the process of closing a deal.
4. He was hired as a go-between to mediate the discussions and ensure both parties felt heard.
5. The go-between played a crucial role in resolving the misunderstandings between the groups.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/go-between>