

GOLD-BOUND

Meaning: Gold-bound: adjective describing a journey or quest directed towards the pursuit of gold or wealth.

1. The adventurer set out on a gold-bound quest, determined to uncover hidden treasures in the mountains.
2. With dreams of fortune and glory, the young prospector embarked on a gold-bound journey across the rugged landscape.
3. The ancient map hinted at a gold-bound treasure buried deep within the enchanted forest.
4. Her heart raced as she realized she was on a gold-bound mission, chasing legends of the lost civilization.
5. The expedition team was well-prepared for their gold-bound adventure, equipped with tools and determination.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/gold-bound>