

GRADIENT

Meaning: Gradient: a gradual change or transition in color, intensity, or value, or in mathematics, a vector indicating the rate and direction of change in a function.

1. The artist skillfully blended colors to create a smooth gradient in the painting.
2. In mathematics, a gradient is a vector that represents the rate and direction of change in a function.
3. The landscape features a gentle gradient that makes it perfect for hiking.
4. Data visualization often employs gradient scales to represent varying levels of intensity.
5. Understanding the gradient of a hill can help determine the difficulty of a hiking trail.
6. The gradient of the hill made the hike both challenging and exhilarating.
7. In graphic design, a smooth gradient can add depth and dimension to an image.
8. The temperature showed a noticeable gradient as we ascended the mountain.
9. Engineers often use a color gradient to represent changes in data visually.
10. The artist used a subtle gradient in the sky to create a more realistic sunset.

---

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/gradient>