

GRADUATESHIP

Meaning: Graduateship refers to a program or position that provides practical experience or training for individuals who have completed a degree, typically aimed at enhancing their professional skills in a specific field.

1. The graduateship program offered a unique opportunity for students to gain hands-on experience in their field of study.
2. After completing her master's degree, she was excited to apply for a graduateship that aligned with her career goals.
3. Many companies actively seek out candidates with a graduateship, as it demonstrates a commitment to professional development.
4. He felt that the graduateship would provide him with invaluable mentorship and networking opportunities.
5. The university announced a new graduateship initiative aimed at enhancing research collaboration with local industries.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/graduateship>