

HAGGARDLY

Meaning: HAGGARDLY (adverb): In a manner that shows signs of fatigue, exhaustion, or weariness, often due to lack of sleep or difficult circumstances.

1. She arrived at the meeting haggardly, her eyes heavy from a sleepless night.
2. The hikers returned haggardly from their challenging trek through the mountains.
3. He spoke haggardly, his voice barely above a whisper after hours of relentless debate.
4. The dog looked at us haggardly after chasing the ball endlessly in the park.
5. She managed a smile, but it came out haggardly, revealing her exhaustion.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/haggardly>