

HARPRESS

Meaning: HARPRESS (verb): To persistently discuss or emphasize a particular topic or issue, often to the point of annoyance.

1. He was determined to harp on the importance of education at every opportunity.
2. Despite her insistence, he couldn't help but harp on his favorite topic of travel.
3. The teacher would often harp on the necessity of completing assignments on time.
4. It was exhausting to listen to him harp on the same issues without seeking solutions.
5. She tended to harp on minor details, missing the bigger picture in the process.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/harpress>