

HEDGE

Meaning: HEDGE (noun): A fence or boundary formed by a dense row of shrubs or low trees, or (verb) to protect oneself against financial loss by diversifying investments.

1. She decided to hedge her investments by diversifying her portfolio.
2. The tall hedge provided privacy for their backyard gatherings.
3. In negotiations, he often used vague terms to hedge his commitments.
4. The gardener trimmed the hedge into a neat geometric shape.
5. To hedge against inflation, they invested in real estate and commodities.
6. She decided to plant a hedge along the property line for privacy.
7. Investors often use options to hedge against potential market losses.
8. The lawyer suggested a hedge in the contract to protect her client's interests.
9. He built a hedge of uncertainty around his true feelings about the situation.
10. The garden was beautifully landscaped, with a neatly trimmed hedge framing the walkway.
11. She decided to plant a hedge around her garden for added privacy.
12. The investor used a hedge strategy to minimize potential losses in the volatile market.
13. He spoke in vague terms, trying to hedge his statements to avoid making any commitments.
14. The ancient stone hedge stood as a testament to the craftsmanship of a bygone era.
15. To protect themselves from the risk of fluctuating prices, they implemented a hedge against inflation.