

HELMINTHOLOGIST

Meaning: A helminthologist is a scientist who specializes in the study of parasitic worms, particularly those belonging to the phylum Helminthes.

1. The helminthologist presented his research on parasitic worms at the international conference.
2. During her studies, the helminthologist discovered a new species of tapeworm in the Amazon rainforest.
3. A renowned helminthologist, she has dedicated her career to understanding the life cycles of various nematodes.
4. The findings of the helminthologist could lead to significant advancements in treating worm infestations in livestock.
5. At the university, the helminthologist teaches students about the ecological impact of helminths on their hosts.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/helminthologist>