

HEMATOIDIN

Meaning: Hematidin is a pigment derived from the breakdown of hemoglobin, commonly found in tissues following hemorrhage.

1. Hematidin is a pigment that can be found in various tissues after a hemorrhage.
2. The presence of hematidin in a tissue sample may indicate prior bleeding events.
3. Researchers are studying the role of hematidin in the body's response to blood loss.
4. Hematidin can sometimes be mistaken for other pigments during pathological examinations.
5. Understanding hematidin's properties is crucial for accurate diagnosis in forensic pathology.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/hematoidin>