

HOMIFORM

Meaning: Homiform (adjective): having characteristics or forms that resemble both human and abstract features, or exhibiting traits of different biological categories.

1. The artist created a stunning sculpture that captured the essence of the homiform, resembling both human and abstract features.
2. In the realm of biology, researchers discovered a homiform creature that exhibited traits of both mammals and reptiles.
3. The novel explored themes of identity and transformation through the lens of a homiform character who struggled to fit into society.
4. During the exhibition, the homiform design of the furniture sparked discussions about the relationship between form and function.
5. The philosopher proposed a theory on the homiform nature of consciousness, blending elements of human and machine intelligence.

Source: sentences.whatistheurl.com

<https://sentences.whatistheurl.com/sentence/homiform>